WE WOULD CALL THE ATTENTION OF V GUANO Dealers, Planters, and Farmers, to the article which we have on hand, and for sale, at Thirty per cent. less than Peruvian Guano, and which we claim to be superior to any Guano or Fertilizer ever imported or manufactured in this country. This GUANO is imported by WM. H. WEBB, of New York, from Jarvis' and Bakers' Islands, in the "South Pacific Ocean," and is sold genuine and pure as in ported. It has been satisfactorily tested by many of our prominent Farmers, and analyzed by the most eminent and popular Agricultural Chemists, and found to contain | and St. Louis. (as will be seen by our circulars) a large per cent. of BONE PHOSPHATE OF LIME,

PHOSPHORIC ACID, And other animal organic matter, yielding ammonis sufficient to produce immediate abundant crops, besides substantially enriching the soil. It can be freely used without danger of burning the seed or plant by coming in contact with it, as is the case with some other Fertilizers; retaining a great degree of moisture, it causes the plant to grow in a healthy condition, and as experience has proved, FREE OF INSECTS.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

BOOKWORLD. [From "All The Year Round."

When the dim presence of the awful Night Clasps in its jewell'd arms the slumbering earth, Alone I sit beside the lowly light That like a dream-fire flickers on my bearth, With some joy-teeming volume in my hand-A peopled planet, opulent and grand.

Of sceptred thoughts, a glorious progeny Borne on the whirlwind of his mighty strain Through vision-lands forever far and free, His great mind beaming thro' those phantom crowds, Like evening sun from out a wealth of clouds. It may be Milton, on his scraph wings,

Souring to heights of grandeur yet untred; Now deep where horrid shapes of darkness cling, Now lost in splendor at the feet of God; Girt with the terror of avenging skies, Or wrapt in dreams of Infant Paradise, It may be Spenser, with his misty shades

Where forms of beauty wendrous tales rehearse, With breezy vistas, and with cool areades Opening forever in his antique verse, It may be Chaucer, with his drink divine, His Tabard old, and Pilgrims twenty-nine Perchance I linger with the mighty Three Of glorious Greece, that morning land of song,

Who bared the fearful front of Tragedy, And soared to fame on pinions broad and strong Or watch beneath the Trojan ramparts proud In wonted rest his lance sceurely liez;

Still is the faithful Sancho stout and hale, Forever wide his wonder stricken eyes; And Rosinante, bare and spectral steed, Still throws gaunt shadows o'er their every doed. Of Caliph splendid, and of Genigelta, The star-wealth of Arabia's thousand nights, Shining till every other light grows dim :

Wander away in broad, voluptuous lands, By streams of silver, and through golden sands: Still hear the storms of Campens burst and swell, His seas of vengeance raging wild and wide; Or wander by the climmering fires of hell With dreaming Dante and his spirit guide; Loiter in Petrarch's green, melodious grove, Or hang with Tassa o'er his hapeless love.

What then to me is all your sparkling dance, Wine purpled banquet, or vain Fashion's blaze, Thus roaming through the realms of rich Romance, Old Bookworld, and its wealth of royal days. Forever with those brave and brilliant ones That fill Time's channel like a stream of suns!

Tell Your Wife, -- If you are in any trouble or quandary, tell your wife-that is if you have one-all about it at once. Ten to one her intuition will solve your difficulty King and Fairlex sts. sooner than all your logic. The wit of woman has been prof d, but her instincts are quicker and keener that, her reason. Counsel with your wife, or your mother or sister, and be assured light will flash upon your darkness. Women are too commonly adjudged as ver dant in all but purely womanish affairs. No philosophical student of the sex thus judges them. Their intuitions, or insights, are the most subtle and if they cannot see a cat in the meal tub, there is no cat there. Many a bome has been happily saved, and many a fortune retrieved, by man's full confidence in his "better half." Woman is far more a secr and prophet than man, if she be given a fair chance. As a general rule, wives confide the minutest of their plans and thoughts to their husbands, having no involvements to screen from them. Why not reciprocate, if but for the pleasure of gaining confidence? We are certain that no man succeeds so well in the world as he, who tak ing a partner for life, makes her the part ner of all his joys and hopes. What is wrong of his impulse or judgment, she will check and set right with her almost universally right instincts. "Help meet" was no insignificant title as applied to man's companion. She is a meet help to him in every darkness, difficulty, and sorrow of life. And what she most craves and most deserves, is confidence
